Right Side Deaden- ed by Shock

HOLD HOPE FOR RECOVERY

Head of Wis. Travelers Suf- fers Stroke But Gets Quick Treatment

While in the Kratchwil candy factory building yesterday afternoon, of which he is a part owner, Charles H. Chamberlain, grand councillor of the Wisconsin United Commercial Travelers suffered a severe stroke of paralysis in his right side. His condition today is serious, but Dr. George Powell who is attending the stricken man holds out strong hopes for his recovery.

Mr. Chamberlain has been in robust health and was feeling well when stricken. He was hurried to the office of Dr. Powell and was under hypodermic treatment within a very few moments after the stroke took place, which may do much toward saving his life.

The hemorrhage, following the breaking of the artery in the brain, which causes paralysis, was a severe one and the first effort of the physician was to stop this.

Mr. Chamberlain was taken to his home on South Eighth street and the efforts of Dr. Powell are now directed toward preventing a second hemorrhage. Unless there is a second hemorrhage—which will develop within a few days if at all—it is expected Mr. Chamberlain will rapidly recover, but a second hemorrhage would probably be fatal.

In case there are no further complications it is expected that Mr. Chamberlain will recover so as to be able to resume his work, though he may never entirely recover from the stroke.

Besides being interested in the Kratchwil company Mr. Chamberlain has been its traveling representative for a number of years. He has been interested in politics for several campaigns and is probably better known throughout the state and northwest than any other commercial traveler.

He was elected grand councillor at the grand lodge meeting of the state held in La Crosse last June.

MANAGER HOLMES PROTESTS A GAME

Manager "Ducky" Holmes of the Wausau baseball team, protested the first game of the doubleheader Sunday in the twelfth inning on the ground that there was no legal umpire to officiate at the contest. In the fourteenth inning, after La Crosse had made the winning run, Manager Holmes made another protest.

This time the manager claimed that the baserunner, Rightfielder Tucker, had interfered with the throw of Catcher Troch to catch Tucker off first and complete a double play retiring the side. The ball struck First Baseman Householder in the leg and caromed off to right field. Medwitzky crossed the plate with the winning run before the ball was returned while Tucker reached second base. Bond was forced at the plate.

The play came up like this: Bond received a base on balls while "Med" also received a pass. Cahill made a hit, advancing each runner. This placed Bond on third and Medwitzky on second with Cahill on first. Tucker hit to Miller, the Wausau pitcher. He threw to the plate, forcing Bond.

NEW BRICK BLOCK FOR MAIN STREET

Scharpf Property Near the Cathedral Sold for About 15,000

A deal has been consummated whereby the G. F. Scharpf property on the south side of Main street between Langdon & Boyd's No. 1 market and the residence of Rev. Father Sluyter, has been sold to Leonard Frey and Julius Burkhardt by P. Lehnen, who will construct a two-story brick business block where the Scharpf residence now stands.

The property has a sixty-four foot frontage on Main street and extends south to Jay street. The property also runs behind the Langdon & Boyd and Keizer establishments to the theater alley. The price is understood to be about $15,000.

Messrs. Frey and Burkhardt, it is ascertained will put up a two-story brick structure, the first floor of which will be used for stores and the second floors for flats.

W. D. Thomas has transferred to the Exchange State bank of the North side the lot upon which the bank is located for a consideration of $4,500.

BRYAN TO GO TO AUSTRALIA BEFORE MIXING IN POLITICS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—It is expected W. J. Bryan, after his arrival, will hold aloof from the party's affairs until nearly convention time. He will go to Australia to study and write about political and economic conditions.

AMERICAN MINISTER PRE- SENTS CREDENTIALS TO HAAKON

CHRISTIANIA, Aug. 13.—Mr. Pierce, American minister to Norway, presented his credentials to King Haakon this morning.

Troch attempted to complete the double, but the throw was bad, hitting Householder in the leg. Medwitzky scored when the ball went to right field. Manager Holmes then entered his second protest.

The first protest was called after Umpire Burns had called a ball on Tucker in the twelfth inning. Manager Holmes contended that it ought to have been a strike. Probably of the opinion that the game was lost, Manager Holmes entered the protest on the grounds that there was no official umpire on hand to officiate at the contest.

The protests probably will have little effect on the standings of the clubs. The plays, calling up the protests, were not violations of the rules. The first might have been called an error in judgment by Umpire Burns, but no protest can be based on this ground. The second also was an idle protest.

In all probability little attention will be paid to these complaints of Manager Holmes when the league directors meet in annual session during the winter. The games will be allowed to stand as counted—for La Crosse.

EXTRA! STABBING AT SPARTA

A shooting and stabbing affray took place on passenger train No. 6 on the Milwaukee road when it pulled into Sparta from La Crosse this afternoon. An unknown man, thought to be temporarily deranged stabbed a policeman badly and a bus driver was shot in the hand. Two conductors were seriously injured.

There was considerable shooting, but only the bus driver was shot.

The man is in custody and the victims are under physicians' care. No fatalities are expected.

No. 6 left La Crosse at 12:55.

The man, who identity is at present uncertain boarded the train at La Crosse and was crazy drunk. He stabbed Conductor Cunningham and another trainman, also City Marshal W. W. Hubble. He was armed with a long knife. Other passengers who had guns began firing promiscuously and Busdriver English was hit by a stray bullet. It is a miracle not more were hurt by bullets from weapons in the hands of the panic-stricken passengers.

It is said an effort of the rainmen to eject the troublesome passenger started the row.

WHERE MORIARITY IS WITH REGARD TO THE PENNANT

BOYS TAKE WESTON'S AUTOMOBILE

And Have Gay Old Time Riding at a Breakneck Speed on Main St.

Saturday evening while Dr. F. R. Weston's automobile was standing in front of the Hotel Law, Jerome Jorstad and Albert Callahan, two well known youths, with a crowd of their friends stepped into the doctor's machine and proceeded to ride around several blocks. The boys returned the machine later, and as the doctor seemed to be busily engaged inside the hotel took a second spin about town, making the dust fly up and down Main street. Later Dr. Weston discovered that his machine had been purloined and called the police.

The two boys were taken in tow by the officers and taken to central station.

Dr. Weston says his machine was badly damaged, as it was run about the city with the brakes set.

The youths, however, maintain that they are acquainted with the workings of an automobile and they did not injure the machine.

They say they took the machine for a lark, the temptation was more than they could resist.

It is not decided at the present time whether the case against them will be pushed by Dr. Weston.

TO LET MONSTER CONTRACT

Representatives of Great Corporate Wealth in Machinery Bidding

Representatives of firms whose corporate wealth aggregate more than two hundred million dollars are in La Crosse today, submitting plans for one of the biggest plants ever built in Wisconsin—that of the La Crosse Water Power company, which is to be constructed near Black River Falls. The contract will be the largest for ever let in the state.

The representatives called upon Manager W. F. Ferris of the Water Power company at the Stoddard today, submitting the plans which were called for by the company some time ago.

Among the representatives here are Victor Guillemain of the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron company of Milwaukee, who are submitting plans for the big dam, which is to be built of steel with a concrete foundation. It will be fifty-five feet at the head and eighty-five feet at the powerhouse, which will be below the head some distance. The Ambursen Hydraulic Construction company of Boston is also figuring. Two representatives are here from the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee who are figuring on the water wheels and generators. A representative of the General Electric company is here in the interest of the equipment of electrical generators and transformers. The representative of the Stanley Electrical company is figuring on the same work and the representative of the Westinghouse company will be here tomorrow.

The Dayton Globe Iron Works of Dayton, O., is figuring on the water wheels, as is a representative of the S. Morgan Smith company.

The La Crosse Water Power company has sold its bonds for $3,000,000 and has this vast amount of money in cash to push the work.

Mr. Ferris, who came here from the Illinois Traction company, regards the project as the biggest thing for La Crosse the city has seen in its history. He says it is the biggest project in the state of Wisconsin, and will prove a great thing for this city.

The company is figuring primarily on furnishing light and power for La Crosse and Winona and Mrs. Ferris says they will have ample power to operate all the electric lines which may be built within their territory and to furnish all surrounding cities with light and power.

As yet the company is not interested in the construction of the Black River Falls Electric line, but this may be taken up later.

Mr. Ferris declares that there is no connection between the La Crosse Water Power company and other similar corporations, and that it is an entirely independent concern.

The contracts for the equipment will be let within a short time and the work on the dam will be rushed during the latter part of the present summer.

DIETZ GIVES HIS VER- SION OF DAM WAR

THORNAPPLE DAM, SAWYER, ALIAS "SATAN'S" COUNTY, Wis., Aug. 13.—I see by the articles published recently in the Free Press you are endeavoring to be just, so I thought I would write to you a letter for publication.

I have given a statement of facts of the battle to several reporters, who, I am satisfied, will give the facts, if they are not tampered with. The purpose of this article is to dissect the statement made by my opponents, and show the public they have unintentionally told the truth.

I haven't seen any published statements by Sheriff Gylland, and I think from his position "back in the woods behind a log," it is impossible for him to make one, unless he makes one out of whole cloth; but Gylland should not hesitate at anything, for he has for years worn the star, and has been the chief agent of the most infectious and infernal "gang" that ever polluted public office. Gylland was one of Sheriff Giblin's deputies in the spring of 1892, who forbid the town officers taking possession of their offices after they were elected by 235 majority, which caused the Hayward riot and troops were telegraphed for by Giblin to put down a riot he had caused by threatening to shed all kinds of blood. Giblin was severely rebuked for his actions by Adj.-Gen. Boardman.

I was the most active participant in quelling that riot; hence any one can see why the Hayward "gang" has such antipathy for me. Gylland's threat two years ago as a candidate for sheriff, that "if elected he would arrest Dietz," caused him to run 300 behind his ticket in a strong half-breed county.

James Hedrickson's statement at Ladysmith, made before he had been posted, admits that I ordered him off the place; that the battle between the militia and the Dietzes, and the militiamen were in the brush out of sight; that they opened fire and it was returned by the Dietzes, and Rogich was wounded. Hoelt admits that Rogich was the only man that hadn't smokeless cartridges, and that was how we located him; that the last venture cost Gylland $600.

Rogich admits he was the only one to stay and stand the fire of the Dietzes, admits shooting Clarence, but gives as an excuse that his head was to be chopped off and fed to the hogs, and there wasn't a hog on the place unless it was him. Rogich told at Winter that it was $5 a day and the offer of a big reward that got him into it. Gylland told at Cameron that if Rogich had left when the rest did he wouldn't have got hurt.

Connor, the company's attorney, claims the war is between Dietz and the state; that the company has nothing to do with it. Can Connor explain why the company furnished the guns and ammunition, why James Rice, the company's cook, furnished Rogich with the 40-82 Winchester that he shot Clarence with? How can Gylland pay $5 a day and offer a big reward and spend $600 in one venture on a salary of $1,000 a year?

Hedrickson admits that I was several rods from the house. Can he give an excuse for shooting through the house or for shooting at the women and children in the yard close to the house? I see by communications that the governor told Gylland he would have to exhaust the resources of his county before calling for outside aid. Did he have a resident of Sawyer county in the recent battle?

No. As to which is the outlaw, Dietz or Gylland, I will leave it to the public to judge. Has he obeyed the orders of the governor when he went outside the county and picked out the most desperate thugs of several communities? Possibly the resources of his county don't uphold a war of extermination or the murdering of women and children.

I suppose this sensational conspiracy has caused a chill to chase up and down the spine of many persons in civilized communities, but such things are nothing uncommon in "Satan's" county, as will be seen by referring to the Minneapolis Tribune of June 9, 1904, under the title, "Dietz Gets the Worst of It," wherein the Hayward man interviewed states the present embroilment is comparatively a small one for Sawyer county, where the criminal records for lawlessness and disregard for law and order are without a parallel in the history of Wisconsin.

I was offered $500 four years ago to join the "gang" and have all kinds of offers for silence out of this controversy, but have never sold my birthright, and never will. It is my firm belief that there is a just God, and no man has better grounds for such faith. I haven't done anything that the constitution of the state and United States and the laws of our God will not justify me in doing.

That I am right in my contentions with the company we have the papers in black and white to convince the most skeptical, but "Satan's" county is where they do things to suit the "gang," where the secretary of the school board draws $10,000 per annum for his services while the children go without schooling, and lets the job of building a schoolhouse to himself and sublets it the same day at $500 profit; where the county judge commits boys to the reform school without a hearing; where they are farming the bounty on wild animals; where the chairman of the town saves the scalps of wild animals when he issues his certificate and calls them his butterflies, and when he wants a transient or Indian vote he simply gives them a butterfly or two; where there is no appearance at court against any criminal if his relatives vote for the "gang," and other depredations too numerous to mention.

Such a county asking the state to lend its aid to maintain such despotism! "Sure, Mike," they would steal the pennies from a blind beggar. Sheriff Gylland was never on our place but once. That was July 3, 1905. He did not make his wants known and his own report shows that I was not at home. Their reports for more than two years substantiates their actions of July 25 last that the only way to get Dietz was to shoot him from ambush.

St. Paul Grafter Nabbed

ST. IGNACE, Mich., Aug. 13.—Harry H. Van Auker, alias "Count Van Auker," whose real name is believed to be Ames of Minneapolis, has ended what the police call a meteoric career of hotel check forgeries, society stunts and summer resort engagements over three states. He was captured here two hours after he is alleged to have victimized the Manistique hotel in the Schoolcraft county jail. When arrested he was headed for Saginaw.

For four months, say the police, he has caused consternation in hotel and bank circles. Dressing like some foreign prince, with accompanying man and gift of suave conversation, he is said to have wored the Occidental hotel at Muskegon, Griswold house at Detroit, Palmer and Grand Pacific hotels at Chicago, Grand Rapids and Oconto, Wis., hotels and a score of others. His alleged forgeries will reach well into the thousands.

Although Van Auker stoutly maintains that he has revealed his real name, the officers here are strong in their beliefs that he is a relative of former Mayor Ames of Minneapolis.

JILTED AT ALTAR FOR SOLDIER LOVER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 13.—Capt. Charles E. Huggins of the United States signal corps appeared here yesterday after an absence of five years on the sea, just in time to find that his old sweetheart, Miss Bessie Thompson, was to be married in a few hours to W. H. Connette. She immediately telephoned to Connette that she would not marry him and arrangements with the returned lover began.

Believing that the young woman was not serious in her announcement, Connette obtained a license and informed his sweetheart of the fact shortly after noon, less than three hours before the ceremony was to have taken place. The young woman was steadfast in her determination to break the engagement, even at that late hour, however, and the word "void" was written in large letters upon one page of the marriage license book at the court house.

It seems that a lover's quarrel separated Capt. Huggins and Miss Thompson several years ago. The boy declared that he would leave Indianapolis and when he returned, if he ever did, it would be with another girl as his bride. He enlisted in the navy as an apprentice and was assigned to service in Northwestern waters.

Absence made the heart grow fonder and a correspondence soon began. Miss Thompson admits that she wrote the first letter. After many exchanges of tender missives, their correspondence suddenly lagged and at this stage of Cupid's intricate game, Connette appeared on the scene.

Then began the conflict in the young woman's heart. Should she wed Connette while she might care for another?

The wedding was postponed from time to time and then set definitely for last night.

The End of the World of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. The bond was placed at $200.

ELECTRICIAN HIT BY FALLING BRICK

He was taken to the office of Dr. Rowles where it was found necessary to take three stitches to close the wound. He is resting easily today.

DEATH ENDS CHASE

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—When an automobile owned and driven by Stewart Elliott ran into a mounted policeman in the Bronx early yesterday, Mrs. T. W. Noble, wife of a traveling salesman, of 635 Tremont avenue, Baltimore, was thrown out and so severely injured that she died tonight in Fordham hospital. Miss Margaret Johnson of this city, also of the party, is still in the hospital seriously hurt. Mr. Elliott and the policeman, Harry F. Smith, were slightly injured.

Following the death of Mrs. Noble, however, Stewart's arrest was ordered by the coroner. Late last night Elliott gave himself up and for the first time told the real names of the women injured in the accident. Mrs. Noble's name had been recorded simply as Mrs. Howard, and Miss Johnson's name had been given as Miss Evans. Elliott was arraigned before Coroner McDonald and paroled until tomorrow, when the inquest will be held.

ED CONNOR HIRES NEW LAWYER

At 2 p. m. today Ed Connor, awaiting trial on a common law charge of jail breaking, created a mild sensation in circuit court by discharging his lawyer, City Attorney P. W. Mahoney. Connor had been bound over by a decision rendered by Judge Brindley in county court a few weeks ago. Connor selected F. E. Withrow as counsel and his hearing on appeal will take place at some future date not yet set.

On the occasion of the former hearing P. W. Mahoney appeared for Connor on appointment by the court. Mr. Mahoney had prepared an ingenious defense, supporting his contention with numerous cases. As he laid before the court citation on citation affording a basis for what seemed an impregnable plea for discharge, the smile on Connor's face broadened, and when the plea was finished he approached his counsel with a huge grin and congratulated him upon the "most able effort he had ever heard in a court of law."

District Attorney Bosshard asked additional time to reply to his argument of the defense, and while returning to jail Connor gave the officer the "horse laugh." He said the state officials looked like a "bunch of suckers."

WISCONSIN'S NEW ATHLETIC INSTRUCTOR

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 13.—A new era in the athletic life of the University of Wisconsin will open this fall, when Dr. Charles Pelton Hutchins of Syracuse university takes charge as athletic director. In selecting Dr. Hutchins for the position, the regents of the university secured a man who has been carrying on athletic work elsewhere on much the same lines as have been planned for the state university, bringing into the athletic activities of the institution a large proportion of the men of the student body rather than a picked few who have already had the advantage of training and show particular ability for certain lines of work. The eradication of professionalism, and the opening of the sports and track work to the general student body are the two great changes which will mark the athletics of Wisconsin in the coming year. That this will mean no loss of prestige in intercollegiate athletics is attested by Dr. Hutchins' record in the institutions where he has held a similar position.

Director at Dickinson College Dr. Hutchins is a graduate of Columbia university, where he was captain of the baseball nine in 1893. He obtained his medical degree at Long Island college hospital, Brooklyn, in 1897, and his gymnastic tutelage under Dr. W. C. Anderson, now of Yale. For two years he was in charge of all branches of physical training and athletics at Dickinson college, Pa., with the rank of assistant professor. It was during the second year of his directorship there that Dickinson defeated the Pennsylvania State college for the first time in five years on the football field, and also defeated Lafayette college with a score of 35 to 0 against Princeton's defeat of Lafayette by 11 to 0.

His Work at Syracuse From Dickinson college Dr. Hutchins went to Syracuse university, where he has been for three years in charge of the sports and track athletics. The defeat of the Colgate University football eleven by Syracuse last year in spite of the fact that half the men on the Syracuse gridiron at the opening of the year were freshmen and thus were raw material from high schools, needing much training, was one result of the hard work Dr. Hutchins has done in Syracuse.

Speaking of Dr. Hutchins' work at Syracuse university, the Syracuse Post-Standard said recently:

"A thing which Dr. Hutchins has thoroughly infused into his men and in which he has backed up strongly by the university, is the spirit of true sportsmanship. 'Fair play' is the slogan of the present regime. No taking of unfair advantage is for an instant countenanced. This attitude naturally makes for the most cordial relations between Dr. Hutchins and his men. When at work the athletes are treated like gentlemen. Unlike the practice at some other institutions, they are not sworn at. Naturally they play the game, whatever it is, as gentlemen. The coach would accept nothing less. Loafers are not wanted on his teams. 'Another feature of note is the energy displayed on the field, the product of sane and correct physical training. The men are invariably in shape to go in for all they are worth. This has made good results for the 'varsity' in the last two years."

Price of Wife is Heavy

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—James S. McClelland of Philadelphia yesterday caused the arrest of Mrs. Helen Hamilton of West Eighty-second street of this city, on a charge of using the United States mails to commit fraud under a pretense of matrimony.

McClelland said that he had answered an advertisement in a Philadelphia newspaper which stated that a young widow with a liberal income and beautiful home desired to meet a gentleman. In response to a letter he was invited to call on Mrs. Hamilton who, he averred, told him she had an income of $10,000 a year. They became engaged, and McClelland said the engagement ring cost $600. Subsequently he sent a check for $200 to pay for a lock. Finally, he declared, Mrs. McClelland wrote that her brother was angry at her engagement and had cut off her income and that she wanted $200 to conduct a legal action to regain it. McClelland brought the check over to New York.

McClelland said he was never afterward able to find Mrs. Hamilton, although he called repeatedly. Finally he disguised himself and watched her house and when he saw her enter it caused her arrest.

Mrs. Hamilton was held in $1,000 bail for hearing Sept. 6. Counsel for Mrs. Hamilton said that she is ready to marry McClelland.

CITY OF MADISON IS "BROKE"

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 13.—Madison is facing a bad financial situation. The city treasury is empty, no substantial sources of income are available until tax paying time next year, and the inevitable deficit will be $80,000 by the time the next assessment is due. While there has been an annual deficit in Madison it has never before reached the prospective sum of this year.

Dr. Will Powell, diseases of women.

WOMAN IN AIRSHIP FLIGHT

FRANKLIN, Pa., Aug. 13.—Mary Prentiss Miller, wife of Maj. Charles Miller, made a trip in the airship Saturday night under conditions that would have tested the courage of strong men. The start was after dark in company with Leo Stevens, the inventor. When the airship was 600 feet in the air the engine gave out and the craft descended on a hill overlooking the town. The bag hit a house, but did no damage. Mrs. Miller was enthusiastic over the trip.

The engine worked well at the start and Stevens had perfect control of his machine. When they had gone on eighth of a mile the "chugchug" of the machine became slower, and finally the engine stopped completely.

Stevens permitted his craft to float for 200 feet. Then he let the gas out. Gradually the big airship descended. It was only thirty feet from the edge of a precipice when it finally landed.

COMMITTEE WILL TAKE DOWN
ARCH

P. C. Wiggernhorn of the U. C. T., John C. Burns for the Elks, and Andrew Thompson of the Normanna Sangerker is the committee which has been chosen to dispose of the Welcome arch which is located on lower Main street. There was some talk of selling the arch to the Interstate Fair association, but this plan was abandoned because the association declined to carry the expense of maintaining the arch.

The arch will be torn down and all that can be disposed of will be sold while the rest will go to the dump.

Children
Thrive
on
Grape-Nuts

A Mass. physician has found a cure for constipation in children—citing fifteen cases—by feeding them Grape-Nuts.

"Some time ago," he writes, "I became interested in your food, Grape-Nuts, as a cure for constipation in children. Having tried it in my own family, I have advised it in fifteen cases in which all suffered with constipation more or less severe. The result has been absolute relief in all."

"I write this that other children may be benefited."

How much better it is thus to bring about a healthy action in the bowels of growing children by natural means, than to feed them with improper food, requiring some kind of cathartic at intervals to overcome constipation.

Grape-Nuts gives energy to the entire nervous system including the nerves that cause the natural contraction and relaxation of bowel muscles that propel the food mass along.

It is predigested also, and the blood easily absorbs the food as it goes through the body, storing up vitality and force for the functions of all the organs.

Children especially, should get the right start as to habits of living. They should grow into bright, strong, cheerful men and women. Grape-Nuts solves the question of the start; a wholesome appetite will do the rest.

Children's teeth are benefited by chewing Grape-Nuts, also. Your dentist will tell you that a certain amount of exercise in chewing firm food, is necessary to grow strong beautiful teeth.

Teeth need exercise just the same as muscles, if they are to grow strong and firm as nature intended. Grape-Nuts gives the exercise and also gives material from which good teeth are made.

MANY SPECIAL TRAINS ON MILWAUKEE CARRY VETS.

Thousands of Old Soldiers go to the National Encampment on This Week in Minneapolis

Through traffic as well as local traffic will be very heavy on the River division of the Milwaukee road for the next few days. It is probable that during this week more people will be carried through La Crosse on this line than ever before, the rush being occasioned by the G. A. R. encampment which will be held at Minneapolis.

Many special trains are to be run to Minneapolis, according to advices received here yesterday.

The Pioneer Limited, which arrives here daily from Chicago at 3:30 a. m., came in this morning in several sections, the regular train arriving first at its scheduled time, and the other six following closely after.

A special train will run each day on the River division from Wabasha to the Twin Cities.

A second section of the regular day train from Chicago reaching La Crosse at 11:30 p. m., arrived Sunday evening with several special Pullman sleepers bearing the Maryland Grand Army delegation.

A complete solid special, bearing the G. A. R. party from New York city, passed through La Crosse early this morning, having made the entire trip without change of equipment.

The G. A. R. veterans from Pennsylvania, with the exception of Pittsburgh, reached here this morning on a solid special of Pullmans, coming right through from Pennsylvania.

The G. A. R. posts of Janesville and Madison, Wis., came on a solid special train passing through here at noon.

A solid special bearing a great party of Grand Army men from Toledo and other parts of Ohio will reach here this evening.

The Pittsburgh G. A. R. post on a solid special of its own, consisting of ten Pullmans, two coaches and one baggage car, passed through Winona Sunday afternoon.

Several special coaches carrying the G. A. R. party from Chillicothe, Mo., on one of the sections of the fast mail, arrived here at noon Sunday.

Fairbanks post from Detroit, Mich., will come on a solid special, reaching here Monday afternoon.

A solid special bearing the Michigan veterans will reach here Monday afternoon.

Thomas post, G. A. R., from Chicago, will ride on a special train of ten coaches, passing through here Monday afternoon.

At 6:30 this morning arrived the Tennessee G. A. R. in a solid special. The Cincinnati veterans came in another special at 7:30.

RIGGS DENIED GUILT OF MURDER BEFORE SUICIDING

Elroy Conductor Sent Long Letter to his Mother in Which he Swore he Was Innocent of Crime

Friends of the late Nathan M. Riggs, the Omaha railroad conductor who committed suicide at Elroy, Wis., after having been arrested for the murder of Millie Ellison in Minneapolis, will read with interest a letter which Riggs is said to have written to his mother before ending his life.

A copy of the letter has just been received in Winona and is as follows:

"Elroy, Wis., July 11, 1906.

"Dear Mother: I am writing you one of the saddest letters I ever wrote in my life. I am in trouble. I am charged with murder. I was arrested in Elroy today by order of the Minneapolis officers, but as there is a God in heaven I am innocent. I know nothing about it; it is all circumstantial evidence.

"Oh, but to think of my wife and daughter! To have to tell them that I am innocent. They are in Elroy and have been there for about a week. Oh, mother dear, if I should die before you hear from me again, I want you to know that I died of a broken heart from being charged with something that I am not guilty of.

I was out in the country to see Anna and Florence today. Oh, but it was the hardest thing I ever did in my life to tell Anna. I did not tell Florence, but I will tonight; then I am ready to die. They may prove me guilty through circumstantial evidence but as God is my judge I am innocent, and should I die before morning it will not be my fault. It is more than I can stand. Circumstantial evidence is always stronger than facts. I know I have not always done as I should, but I always meant to do right. Sometimes a man will do things that are not just what he should do, and not be altogether to blame for it, that is in a way, but mother, whether I die or live I want you to know that I am innocent. I cannot write any more tonight. I must write some more to the other parties, and should I die Anna will talk with you so I will close with what may be my last letter to you. So as a last good-by I will say again, whatever they bring against me, I am innocent of any charge of this kind. I remain, your son,

"N. M. RIGGS."

HE WANTED A HOUSEKEEPER BAD

John Schmidt of Holmen, whose wife was some time ago committed to the Mendota hospital for the insane, in one of the oddest letters in the files of County Court, made application for permission to have a housekeeper "help him with the housework." Judge Brindley informed Schmidt that he could hire whatever housekeeper he chose, and in thanking the judge in a subsequent letter Schmidt asked that it be "put in the paper" that he would hire "housekeeper who was a good woman and whom he could trust."

It was of common knowledge before the incarceration of Mrs. Louisa Schmidt, his wife, that she was the boss of things generally at the home and Schmidt therefore undoubtedly is taking all precautions in hiring a housekeeper who will keep him in servitude until the return of his wife. Her condition remains unimproved.

Harry Newbur and Jesse and Edgar Brenner will start tomorrow morning to float to Dubuque from where they will take a Diamond Jo boat back to La Crosse.

GET READY FOR A GREAT FAIR

The directors of the La Crosse Interstate Fair are getting ready for the greatest and most successful fair ever held in La Crosse. La Crosse is getting ready to support that fair with loyalty, intelligence and purse.

The time is not far distant. It behooves merchants and manufacturers to make early preparations for displays that will out-do any they have given in the past. It will be wise for those who have not entered displays before to do so this year. Particularly will it avail the manufacturers of La Crosse to put their products before the public on a large scale and in an attractive way. There is an advertising value in the fair that, assisted by newspaper publicity, is not only instructive and entertaining to the public, but highly valuable to the exhibitor.

In order that the fair may be properly advertised among out of town people, it will be necessary for the newspapers to publish items of interest concerning it. This supplements the billboard advertising, for what the farmer and villager reads in a reputable newspaper impresses him more than billing or circularizing.

The Tribune management takes this means of informing the fair management that its columns are at their service for reading notices. It knows from past experience that the association takes pride in making its utterances concerning the fair accurate, and we therefore do not hesitate to give them a free hand in the space of this journal. It may be added that whatever display advertising, if any, comes to it through business channels will be published at the regular rates of this newspaper and without "padding" of either space or advertising rates.

Incidental to this discussion of the fair there arises a matter of considerable concern. It is the retention of the "arch of welcome." It is understood that the lodges of which the arch is the property are planning its immediate removal. Without entering into a discussion as to the advisability of this step on their part, it must be said most emphatically that some way to preserve it until after the fair should be found. It cost money, and those who paid the money own it and may do with it as they see fit. To help pay for it seems the only way to retain it. It has been an attractive adornment to the streets, and its appropriateness for fair week cannot be questioned. We believe that the fair association, perhaps with the aid of the city, should take steps to secure the use of the arch.

THE "REVISED BY ITS FRIENDS" IDEA EXTENDED

The tariff question is certain to be an issue in the next presidential campaign. It is pretty sure to be true that the republican party managers (to the chagrin of a majority of republicans) are going to put the "stand-pat" show on the boards again. Already there has been heard the old familiar ballad, "The Tariff Should be Revised by Its Friends." And the assurance that has gone forth that President Roosevelt has given the plan his official O. K. indicates that the only possible republican opposition to the republican party leaders has been silenced.

"The tariff should be revised by its friends." There is a political sermon in this. In the next national campaign the republican party is going into battle in support of principles that it has fought against for years, and that the democratic party has for years unsuccessfully supported. Not unsuccessfully either, for the democratic championship of these things has forced the republicans to accept them as the drowning man grabs the straw. If "the tariff should be revised by its friends," is it not equally true that "anti-trustism should be administered by its friends?" And is it not likely that the republican party will administer anti-trustism as it has revised the tariff?

These things have been played with, but whether because of weakness or subterfuge, they have not been dealt with as they must be dealt with to meet the American crisis. Petty fines for rebaters, dallying dealing with Standard Oil monstrosities, pure food laws of more verbosity than effectiveness—these may be painted red for campaign purposes, but they will not relieve the situation.

THE FINISH OF THE "CANDIDATE SHOP"

Here is a portion of an editorial. Don't turn up your nose at it because it is from The American. It is good reading, and while it paints a dark picture that is woefully true, it ends with a cry of optimism.

Lots of things in The American are worth reading. It is a newspaper that is published to sell. It contains much stuff of an inferior nature in the way of news and "features." When you accuse it of this be just enough to admit that it also prints the best stuff from the pens of the best writers of the age—economists, scholars, poets, diplomats. It is called "yellow," partly because it is sensational in its handling of criminal news, and partly because it is honest and fearless in attacking the graft that has been rotting this nation from its halls of government down to its smallest enterprises. The men who fear it and hate it because it is the enemy of graft, cry out that it is "yellow." Its editorials are among the strongest that appear in the public prints, and while one cannot indorse all features of its news gathering, one should not underestimate its prolific endeavors to bring about urgently needed reforms. To get back to this particular editorial, The American presents a picture of The Trusts running a shop in which presidential candidates are for sale. The Trusts offer to furnish the parties candidates. The Trusts select the candidates, and control the market. It does not matter which wins, for each is a trust candidate. That has been true in the past, but things are changing. It may shortly be true that the "presidential shop" of The Trusts will be boycotted by both parties. The American asks:

Don't you find in the United States senate the trust republican, Aldrich, working with the trust democrat, Bailey, to help along monopoly?

Don't you find the same trust power controlling the bosses, the mis-called "leaders" of both parties?

How many times have the people in this country gone to the polls to vote knowing that no matter which ticket they might vote they would vote for the trusts inevitably?

Ask yourself how it has been in your own state, in your own city or village.

There are exceptions. Occasionally a man of conviction refuses to be owned and forces recognition in the face of organized money's opposition.

But how often does that happen?

Not often enough to interfere with the truth of the statement that both political parties have become trust-owned parties, and all of the political bosses nominating candidates and herding voters like sheep to the polls have fed out of the same trust manger.

Let Morgan, Rockefeller, Belmont, Ryan, or Chicago traction or gas magnate stick his head out of his office door and whistle—does he know what kind of a political yellow dog will come at his call? Does he know whether the whining answer will be a democratic or a republican boss.

No, and he does not care.

Whichever it may be, he knows his orders will be obeyed. He pays both; he owns both.

In the past Uncle Sam, when he came around for men to do his work, has fared as in this picture. He has been told by the trusts: "Here is your choice, my democrat or my republican. You have got to take one or the other—these or nothing."

But this situation is changing. There has been a great deal of talking, a great deal of discussing and a great deal of thinking in this country during the past few years.

OUR PITCHING STRENGTH

Two sensational pitchers' battles yesterday added two more victories to the La Crosse side of the tally sheet. Jones did superb work in the fourteen-inning battle against the strong wing of Miller. He allowed eight hits in fourteen innings, getting better every inning, and winning 2 to 1 in a game that is one of the features of the season. One wonders how this little bundle of gristle and nerve can carry so much up his sleeve and under his hat. It was a wonderful exhibition.

In the second game Bubser took the slab for La Crosse and performed the spectacular feat of pitching a "no hit, no run" game. He was simply invincible, and the prowess of Lang, Wausau's wonder of wonders, availed nothing. Against two of the strongest twirlers in state league ball in the United States, Jones and Bubser showed themselves capable of traveling in any company.

These two events following George's three-hit game which should have been a shut-out and would have made three straight blanks to his credit, should confirm La Crosse fans in the belief that La Crosse has the team to win the pennant. Schneiberg, the "Big Fellow," has been pitching big league ball, and his almost unflinching ability to pitch himself out of a "three-on-bases-no-out" hole has won the hearts of patrons of the game.

Back of this aggregation of pitchers is a team that played 500 per cent with four cripples, and that is getting back into form and playing splendid ball. With the strong management of Pink Hawley, whose pitching arm is on the mend and may soon again become a factor in the contest, the champs are fairly certain to repeat their performance of last year.

The Elks helped pay for the welcome arch, and the Elks will go to the fair. The Commercial Travelers helped pay for the arch, and the travelers will go to the fair. The Norwegian singers helped pay for the arch, and they will go to the fair. These lodges own the arch, and they will all support and "boost" for the fair. Be fair!

Another illustration of quick and just justice in La Crosse was given in the capture and immediate sentence and imprisonment of Freeman, the brutal assailant of W. J. Boyd. The police department and the court should be congratulated.

If you didn't see it in the Evening Common Stock, you can find it on a back page of the Morning Laughing Stock. That is, if The Interests wanted it published.

Every baseball bill has a picture of some fellow with a mustache. Not a player in the league wears one, and few baseball players do. Shove him, please.

We advise our contemporaries to take legal steps against The Tribune on the ground that it has extended its popularity in restraint of competition.

It looks as if there would be a close race for the democratic nomination for sheriff between Chris Burns and Uncle Cy.

What happened when Theodore Roosevelt fell heir to the presidency might have been a pointer to Senator La Follette.

The lost Charley Ross has been found. Now if we could only find the umpire.

It is reported that John Dietz and John D. Rockefeller are still at large.

THE STATE PRESS

One of the funniest incidents of the rather peculiar campaign which we have entered upon is the way that poor John Strange's name has been fooled with by his admiring new friends.—Whitewater Register.

The work of the democrats in the last congress in forcing reforms on an unwilling republican majority and the action of democratic state conventions in indorsing Bryan and recommending steps that will bring the country back to a government of the people has caused many men who have left the party in the past six years to return. Tom Watson of Georgia has announced that he will hereafter be found fighting in the democratic ranks and he advises all who wish to see the reforms that they have been advocating for years carried out to enlist under the banner of democracy. The people will govern if they unite and put the "standpatters" in the background.—Chilton Times.

Robert Marion La Follette, United States senator from Wisconsin, will deliver an address at the Myers opera house a week from Saturday evening. It will be interesting to listen to this address in view of the fact that two years ago he bitterly condemned men who stood in the same position he does now, as United States senator, who entered into a state campaign.—Janessville Gazette.

Dr. George Powell, consulting physician and surgeon.

JUST LIFE

In Proof Whereof

As figures can't lie, we present our "figure," caught in the act by a "special staff artist" in proof of the following:

What "We" Do at Camp

We're the first up in the morning;
We wake while the others snooze,
And quietly sneak to the ice box
And tap a bottle of booze.

We gather all the firewood,
We start the breakfast fire,
We really think it does us good—
Of work we never tire.

We cook the cakes and coffee,
We clean and fry the fish,
We set the table carefully
And load up every dish.

And then we gently wake the boys
When all the work is done;
We do the work so the others may
Devote their time to fun.

And when the meal is over,
We wash up every dish,
In fact we like to do it,
So the other boys can fish.

We repeat this every mealtime,
We work just all the while,
We like to see the gang lounge round,
We do it all and smile.

We carry in the bed clothes
That have been out to air,
We sweep the floor, we make the beds
We work, you bet, for fair.

The boys are all asleep before
We finally hit the hay,
We stay up nights to find more work
To pass the time away.

And even when we go to bed
We're wishing it was day,
Because we are in constant fear
Some work will get away.

The River

The river had lapped up its evening meal,
It had swept the sandy shore,
Its stomach was full of fine fish fry
It could hold not one thing more;
So the wavelets tripped an evening dance
To the tune of ripples sweet,
Then the river laid down in its sandy bed

DEMOCRATS MUST TAKE ALL FACTS

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 13.—Secretary of State Houser does not want unexpert democratic investigators, appointed by the recent democratic convention, to search the state accounts for facts that they may be able to twist into political capital by manipulation. The committee will be accurately and fully informed as to all facts about which inquiry may be made, but the questions will be asked and answered publicly and openly, at any time that may be agreed upon by the committee. Secretary Houser said he would arrange to place his entire office force at the disposal of the committee and when the committee desires to make its investigation the time will be made public and every interested citizen will be invited to be present.

BOATS CAN NOW PASS AT SUPERIOR

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 13.—An opening a trifle under forty feet wide has been made through the wreck of the interstate bridge in Duluth-Superior harbor and the lumber boats were able to get through yesterday. Any boat of not to exceed thirty-seven foot beam can go through. The steamer Peck tried it, but stuck and had to be pulled back. An opening through which all boats can pass is expected to be made by Tuesday or Wednesday.

OSTRICH FEASTS ON A DIAMOND

PASEADENA, Cal., Aug. 13.—Theodore Roosevelt is wearing a one-carat diamond stud in his stomach. Theodore is one of the prize ostriches at the South Pasadena ostrich farm, and how the diamond happens to be decorating the interior of his anatomy is easily explained.

J. S. Vallely, manager of the farm, entered Roosevelt's pen, wearing the gem, in his shirt bosom. The glitter of the stone attracted the big bird's attention, and it followed the manager around, until the psychological moment arrived. Then its long neck shot out and the huge beak shut over the diamond with a snap. There was a conclusive movement along the neck and the stone was gone.

Since then every effort has been made to recover the diamond. Emities were resorted to, but they were only partly successful. They raised the stone half way up the neck, but could not negotiate the entire six feet. As the bird is valued at $1,000 it would not be economy to slaughter it for the sake of the diamond.

THISTLE MAY KILL PEA INDUSTRY

MANITOWOC, Wis., Aug. 13.—Manitowoc county and the entire lake shore district is to be hit hard by the loss of the pea canning industry which it is declared by the leading canners, must come as the result of the Canada thistle pest. According to the statement, it will be less than five years before the industry will become unprofitable in this district.

The thistle bud resembles and is the same size of the pea, and it is impossible to separate them, except by hand labor, and this process is too costly. The Ladreth company expended $5,000 to separate the thistle bud this year.

As a forerunner of the closing of the industry in this section, the Landreth company has announced that it has abandoned its Newton plant with the close of the season. The pea industry is one of the most important in the county and northern section of the state, and gives employment to thousands during the summer. Farmers are blamed for permitting the thistle pest to get the start of them.

BANNER CELEBRATES SEMI-SENTENNIAL

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., Aug. 13.—A reception was given George F. Cooper, publisher and proprietor of the Badger State Banner, his father, Frank Cooper and the Banner force on Friday evening by the Citizens' Banquet league, one hundred being in attendance. The occasion was the fiftieth anniversary of the Banner. George F. Cooper has been with the Banner for the last thirty-eight years. Frank Cooper, his father, a former publisher of the paper and the oldest typesetter in the state, is 81 years of age. He has been setting type for the last sixty-two years and still works daily at the case. Col. J. A. Watrous of Milwaukee, at one time one of the publishers of the Banner, was unable to be present. The Banner will issue a jubilee number.

HOTEL MAN HAS BEAUTY ARRESTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Viola Soudine, the six-foot brunette beauty and heiress to $1,100,000, who created a sensation by leaving her husband after a month's wedded life, is under arrest at Atlantic City on the charge of being a hotel beat. The young woman has not ceased to be an heiress, but she ran out of funds while on a little trip all by herself and tried to stand off a hotel for $47.50.

Miss Soudine as she prefers to be called, instead of by her married name of Mrs. W. I. Irvine Picklin, was not locked up because of the efforts of another hotelkeeper who knows her. Today $50 was wired her by her mother, Mrs. S. L. Goldenberg.

Miss Soudine arrived in Atlantic City three days ago and registered at the hotel, where she was given a $10 a day room. Yesterday she left without taking any visible luggage with her. On investigation it was found that the suit case she had left was empty.

Under the law of New Jersey proof of intention to defraud hotels is ground for imprisonment.

In Self Defense

CITES ATTORNEY FOR CONTEMPT

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 13.—Steadfast refusal to bow to the authority of the grand jury has resulted in the filing of charges of contempt of court against Henry Quinby, attorney for the Eagle Insurance company of New York, and Charles Hendry, adjuster for the London and Lancashire. Denying the authority of the grand jury to compel him to submit for examination documents upon which his company ignored settlements, Quinby exhausted the patience of Presiding Judge Graham, with the result that he was ordered to appear on Monday to show cause why a fine or a term of imprisonment should not be imposed upon him.

His mother and sister, who have been here since he was injured, will accompany him home.

VETERANS PASS THROUGH CITY

The largest number of passenger trains and passengers that have ever passed through this city in the same number of days have gone through during the past two days enroute to the Minneapolis grand encampment of the G. A. R.

There were four sections of No. 57, four of No. 55, four of No. 1, and one of No. 3 this morning. There will no doubt be several more sections from the east on No. 5 this evening.

Yesterday a special of twelve coaches from the New York Central lines containing a large delegation of veterans passed through the North side enroute to Minneapolis.

They seemed to be in a very happy mood and upon reaching the Mill street crossing on the North side three of them pulled out bottles of "ginger ale" and filled glasses which they held outside the car and said: "Here's to the health of La Crosse."

It is feared that the attendance at Minneapolis will be so large that they will be unable to accommodate everyone.

NORTH SIDE BRIEFS

La Crosse won Saturday's and two Sunday games from Wausau, there being in the two latter games two remarkable exhibitions of pitching.

In the first Sunday game, resulting 2 to 1 for La Crosse, Jones struck out sixteen men in the fourteen innings necessary to decide the contest.

In the second game Bubser pitched a "no hit-no run" game, something very seldom seen in baseball.

MINOR GAMES

W. B. U., 6; Houston, 4
The W. B. U. baseball team left Saturday evening to play Houston, Minn., and the contest proved to be one of the most interesting games that was ever played in the southern part of Minnesota for years. For seventeen long innings the teams battled for supremacy and when the contest was over the score stood 6 to 4 in favor of the W. B. U. It was a game the like of which has not been seen for many years in southern Minnesota. Each team scored two runs in the third inning and in the fourth and fifth Houston scored two more runs, making the score 4 to 2 in favor of Houston. The W. B. U. were doomed to defeat up to the ninth, but the university boys rallied and with the bases full, Burke nailed out a two-bagger, tying the score. Not a run was made after that until the seventeenth when the W. B. U. Athletics made two more runs. After the fifth inning the W. B. U. played sensation ball, blanking Houston for twelve innings. Wolford, the 17-year-old twirler for the Athletics, pitched a great game, allowing but four hits after the fifth inning. He had excellent control and allowed only two men to walk. He struck out fifteen men and only nine hits were secured off his delivery. Kirkelie, the Houston pitcher, was equally as good for he allowed only eleven hits, and struck out eleven men. Score: ( R. H. E. )

Onalaska, 3; Park Store, 2

The Park store team was defeated yesterday on the George street grounds by the Onalaska team by a score of 2 to 3. The batteries were Comeau and Nutting and for Onalaska and Jacques and Squires for the Park store team. John Hayes had his right arm hurt by a pitched ball and this no doubt helped to put the Park store team at a disadvantage.

Acorns, 7; Farewells, 6

The Acorns defeated the Farewells on the Sixteenth and Farewell street grounds by a score of 7 to 6. Batteries: Acorns—Olson, Nettell and Streck. Farewells—Voss, Noffke and Bettin.

SOCIETY.

ELKS CONVENTION.

The Elks have been holding high carnival during the week and the purple and white, their colors, have been much in evidence. The decorations were elaborate and ornate and in good taste. Although not as large an attendance as was wished, all seemed to enjoy the convention to the uttermost and the guests were loud in their praises of their brother Elks of La Crosse Lodge, 300, and the lavish hand with which they were entertained. There were automobile rides, river rides, banquets, with lots to eat and drink "without money and without price." The Kangaroo court was one of the events of the convention and made a good deal of fun. No one managed to escape if once within the clutches of the law, and all paid their fines and took the affair in good part. The weather was not all that could have been desired, but that like "time and tide wait for no man" so every one made the best of it and took everything in good part. On the whole it was a successful convention in all respects except numbers.

Miss Edna Nelson entertained a number of her friends at her home, 2112 Cass street, Wednesday evening. The rooms were very prettily decorated in various cut flowers. A dainty supper was served at small tables in the various rooms and also on the lawn, and Japanese lanterns were hung about. The Misses Marie Niemeyer and Stella Selund rendered several selections on the piano. After the supper was served Miss Nelson was presented with a handsome toilet set. The invited guests were: Misses Stella Selund, Sigrid Braathen, Alma Laugaard, Ragna Lund, Emma Strand, Emma Lund, Marie Niemeyer, Agnes Lang, Nellie Davidson, Rosanna Lund, Bertha Limoseth, Sophie Johnson, Agnes Linberg, Lena Esperson, Lora Davidson, Lydia Dahlgren, Hannah Weket, Selma Johnson, Mary Hovind, Ida Nelson, Lillie Moiclen of Algona, Ia.; Messrs.
